SOUTH FORK
UNION HIGH SCHOOL
MIRANDA, CALIFORNIA

Dedication . . .

We, the Seniors of South Fork High School, are dedicating this book, the 1949-50 annual, to the most cooperative office administrators South Fork has ever known.

To our principal and superintendent of schools, Mr. Farquar; to our vice-principal, coach and student advisor, Mr. Roche, and to our very efficient secretary, Mrs. Taggart.

These three "Indispensables" have shown abundant cooperation, interest, consideration, and an unfailing amount of patience. A helping hand, an encouraging word, a friendly smile and a reprimand when needed, all go toward making these wonderful people so well remembered.

Principal's Message

Although this school year has been an outstanding one in many ways, there is no doubt that one success will linger longer in our minds than any other—the winning of the Humboldt-Del Norte Basketball Championship—the first such achievement in our school's history.

Many fine tributes have been paid our team for its skill, outstanding sportsmanship and determination to win. I think that such praise was justly deserved and certainly we who gave moral support to the players are proud of them in their moment of glory.

However, my pride is not centered in the team alone. I am equally proud of our student body and the loyal citizen supporters whose interest and encouragement aided the team no end, in finally winning the championship.

In my opinion South Fork's finest tribute was earned in an hour of defeat near the end of the waning season. I quote, "let it be said that the South Fork team, its coaches and its fans were grand sports—they don't make them any better. They never quit trying and while the defeat was tough to take, they took it with their heads high—and offered no alibis—and we are now pulling for a South Fork victory in the championship game this week-end." This quotation is taken from the columns of a newspaper in one of our neighboring communities.

To my mind this statement indicates that we won more than a basketball championship—we won the sincere respect of our fellowmen, which in the final analysis is the greatest reward that can come to an individual or a group.

I trust that our school will always be judged, "not by whether we win or lose but, by how we play the game."

Sincerely,

W. HAROLD FARQUAR

Our Faculty

The mainstay of any school is the ability, quality, and morale of its teachers.

South Fork is very proud to say that its faculty this year has been a group of capable and well-balanced teachers.

Students want teachers who are interested in their pet subject and school social functions as well. All have shown an abundant interest in each and every student, and have helped and guided many who were unsure of themselves.

All the basketball games, dances, conventions, student practices and committee meetings have only proved the strength of the link between student and teacher.

Senior History

In September 1946, approximately 49 very frightened little Freshmen huddled together in the halls of South Fork. The rooms were dim and foreboding, the teachers seemed like giants to the poor little class of 1950. Yes, that was how our class felt then.

Although we were frightened at first, we rallied our courage and elected Farrar Richardson as President, Genevieve Bowman as Vice President, and Mary Barkhurst as Secretary. With these three to lead us we made our way through our first year at S. F. Our activities that year, due mostly to our fright, were very few.

In our sophomore year we were a little braver, because after all, there was a class under us! With President Yvonne Morrison, Vice President Earnest Gray, and Secretary Pat Bullis, all 49 of us started gaily on our way through our second year in High School. That year, as I recall, we gave a "Backwards Dance" which was very successful.

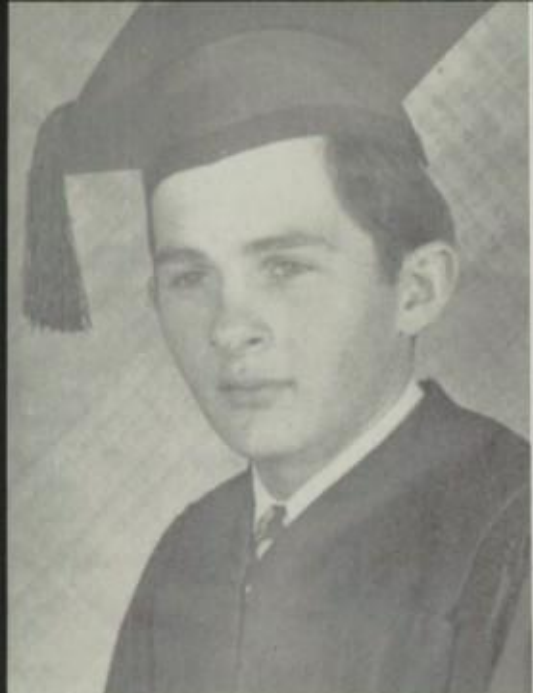

By the time the third year rolled around we were really feeling proud. So . . . First of all we elected class officers: Bill Smith, President; Mary Barkhurst, Vice President; and Yvonne Brockway, Secretary. With this done the whole class of 45 pupils put their heads together and decided to really make this year a success.

First of all, we gave a "Mixer Party." Then we decided to have our Junior-Senior Banquet at the Forest of Arden. A little later came the long-awaited for—Prom. As usual it was a huge success.

Then at last came our last year. Yes, at last we were mighty Seniors. For our Senior year the officers were President Daren Webster, Vice President Jim Mathews, and Secretary Loretta Totten. Our original number had dropped to 38, but then one more Senior moved in and brought our total back up to 39, and we were 39 Seniors, Staunch and True to our class.

Ordering our Senior pictures, cards, and announcements made us feel that at last we were really the "Big Wheels" of this year. There is still the Banquet (for us this year), the Prom and the picnic to look forward to.

And last but not least somewhere around the 15th of June, the day will come when we will walk proudly down the aisle to become alumni of Dear Old South Fork High.

ALLENDER, LEE:

A veteran member of the Senior class since Freshman days. His friendly smile and joking manner as well as his love for sports, marks him as a true South Fork Student.

BARKHURST, MARY:

Besides her attractive good looks and congenial personality, Mary possesses poise and efficiency. Her ability to shoulder responsibility has brought success to many school projects. Always on the go—she has been indispensable to the Class of 1950.

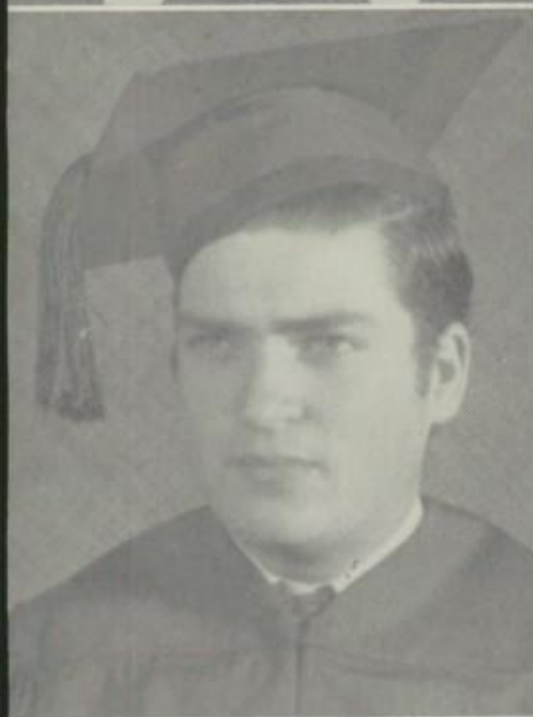

BOWMAN, GENEVIEVE:

Artistic ability, a lovely voice, leadership traits, outstanding devotion to sports, and excellent scholastic qualities make this South Fork girl a great asset to the Class of 1950.

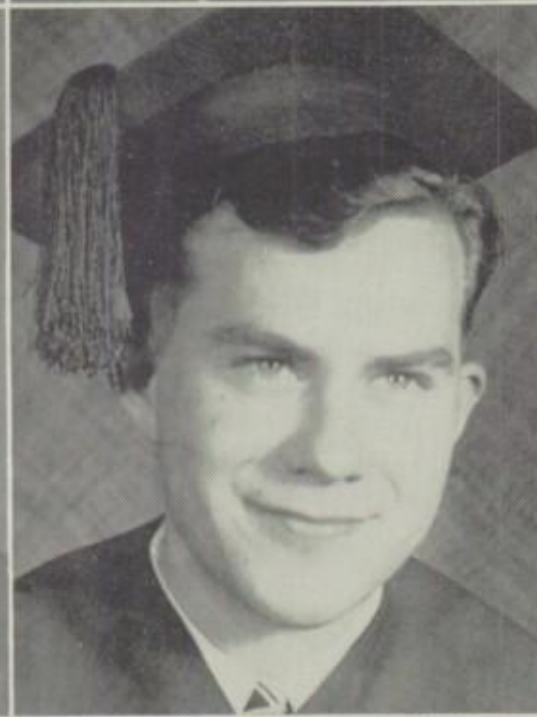

BROCKWAY, YVONNE:

Vonnie's chief claim to fame came as the Log's editor in chief; a job which everyone agrees was done to the greatest of ability. A true mainstay in any work she undertakes, Vonnie is known as the conservative gal with a conscientious nature.

BRYAN, CHARLES:

Chuck is a quiet lad with lovely green eyes and motor scooter. Charles is well known to all the students as the guy in front of the cloud of smoke, as he goes putting down the highway to school.

BRYAN, BOB:

The mellow tuba in the band is wielded by Bob, who delights in being very quiet until the time for an answer, and almost every time, Bob is right on the beam.

CHESNEY, IVA:

Living out on the Briceland road means nothing to Iva, for this congenial gal has a host of friends wherever she goes. Iva's quiet personality made her adapt herself quickly to South Fork life.

COLOSIMO, ANN:

A nice looking gal with a sweet personality. A whiz of a worker and one can always trust Ann to come smiling through when it comes to doing her part. Swell when it comes to dramatics. A true asset to the Senior Class of '50.

Seniors . . . Class of '50

DAHL, MARILYN:

Marilyn's exuberance and lively spirit are accentuated by her laughing grey-green eyes and infectious giggle. With her cheery remarks and friendly quality, she lends the campus a gay air.

FLETCHER, CARL:

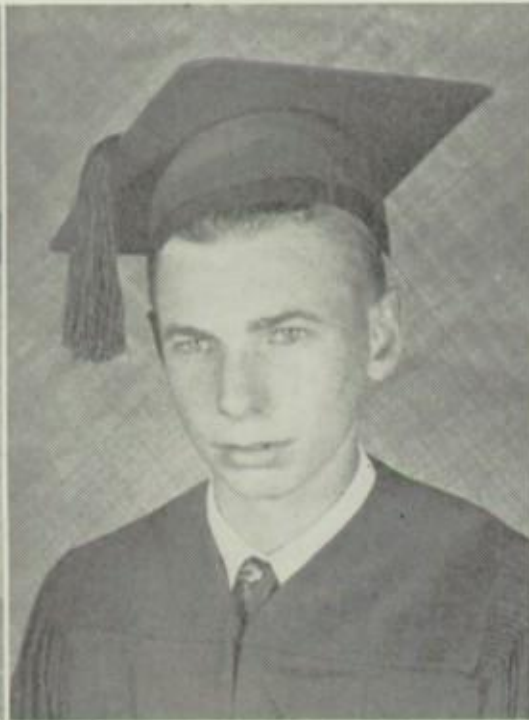

Lank easy-going Carl is a veteran member of our class since 1946. His joking, friendly nature as well as his love for fishing has marked him a true South Forkian.

FLETCHER, VIRGINIA:

Flech came to South Fork in her Freshman days and left and came back again to graduate. Pretty green eyes, auburn hair and an ever-ready smile to accompany her cheerful hello—typify her.

FORD, BOB:

Bob's a quiet, easy guy with an engaging grin. A more pleasant, sincere guy is hard to find. Well liked by "da boys" and admired by the girls. Bob can hold his own in any popularity poll.

HOPE, TRAVIS:

Referred to as Hopeless Hope, Travis is a slow, easy-going guy who hails from Mississippi. Once you've met him, you won't forget the southern drawl and winning grin.

IAEGER, GEORGE:

Nicknamed Twinkle-toes since grammar school days, we hear from this carrot top all about Oregon and how wonderful it is. But George still continues to tell us all about his home state despite constant teasing which shows good sense of humor.

JAMES, BILLIE:

With a devilish giggle and quick smile, Billie soon identifies herself as an all-round senior. Good in sports and book-learning, too, Billie is well known at South Fork.

LEWIS, CAROLLE:

The seniors of '50 have a married gal in their midst and it's Carolle. Black hair and green eyes soon identify this gal who keeps on her toes in book learning and housekeeping as well.

Seniors . . . Class of '50

LOOMIS, ELAYNE

New to South Fork in her Junior year, Elayne has made a place in the hearts of all by her quiet appeal and poise and personality. She will continue to be remembered by her friends long after graduation.

MATHEWS, JIM

Jim Mathews is one of the most talented basketball players in South Fork. His friendly disposition, joking nature and excellent sports ability have won him hosts of friends who will never forget him.

McWADE, VIRGINIA

A gal who serves on endless committees and who is excellent in sports, especially basketball. Ginger contributes many clever suggestions which have proved successful to South Fork.

McINTIRE, MARY

Quiet and reserved, Mary is one of the most brilliant girls in the Senior Class. She excels in English, and her essays are well known throughout the English department for their humor, fact, and large vocabulary.

MEGO, LEWIS

Another definition for mischief. Buzzy has always managed to be on hand when something is in the air. Since coming to South Fork in a Freshman daze, Buzzy is well known in and on the campus for his friendly air.

MILLER, FLORANN

This gal joined our ranks in her Sophomore year, and is well known as an independent sparring partner. Sparring is her favorite subject, so if you're looking for a person to listen to your point of views, Punkie is the person.

MILLEE, MITZI

Mitzi is a name that is typical of this petite gal. Although she is constantly giggling and jesting, she is not devoid of brains. Her vivacious cheerfulness is evident wherever she goes and she goes everywhere.

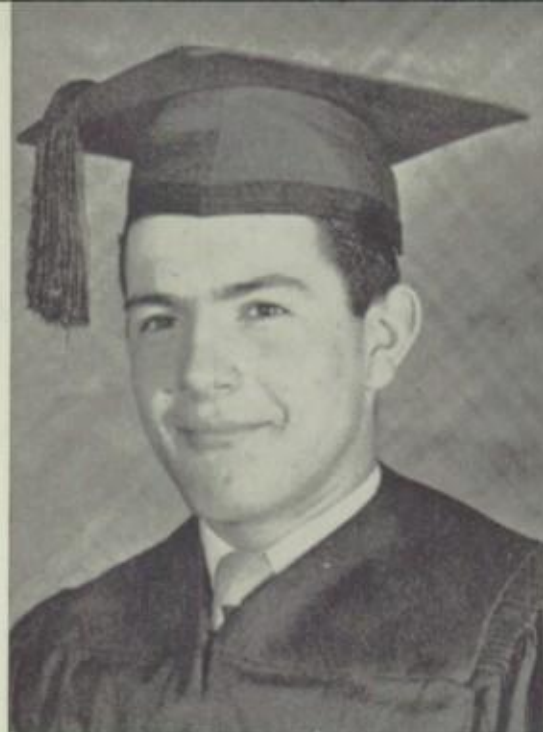

MORRISON, YVONNE

Vonnie is one of the most personable gals in our midst, a girl who is willing to do more than her share, and who will succeed in anything she might do. A modest girl who excels in music, leadership and sports and books.

MYERS, JOE:

Better known as "Skeeter" to his pals. Joe is South Fork's outstanding basketball athlete. His good sense of humor, wisecracks and good looks make him welcome in any place.

PAUL, BUD:

One of the fellas with a good sense of humor. Full of mischief, as most boys are. A member of the '50 class since way back in grammar school days.

PASS, JOAN:

A carefree attitude and a knack for taking life easy describe this South Fork gal. Joan, the lovable, unpredictable class clown is a notorious live wire; a "nut" (we use the word loosely) in every sense of the word.

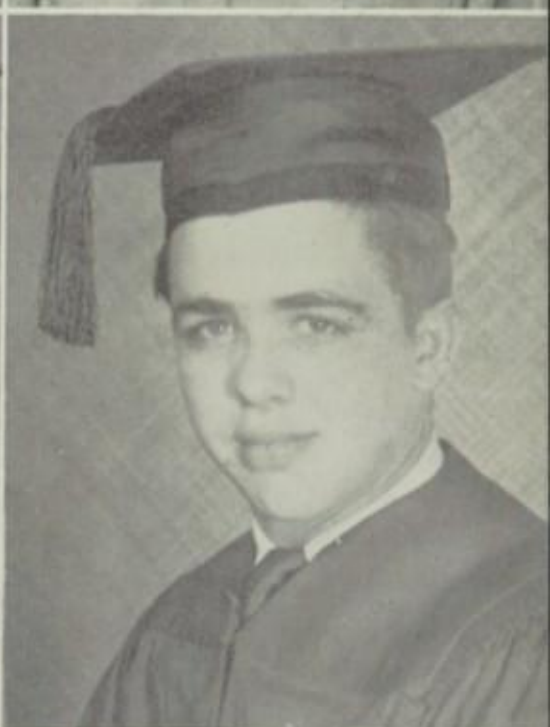

RUBIRA, MANNIE:

Mannie's years at South Fork have established him as the guy with the comic laughs. The drums are his main interest and he may be heard any time giving forth with the Rubira version of Gene Krupa.

SLAGLE, BETTY:

A top athlete and a winner of friends. Betty is known throughout the school. With her Model A and host of friends she is ready to do or die for South Fork High and all her pals.

SMITH, CLARENCE:

Out of the service and back at South Fork, Smitty has made himself popular with the gals and fellas. A keen basketball player, Clarence has made many points for the home team.

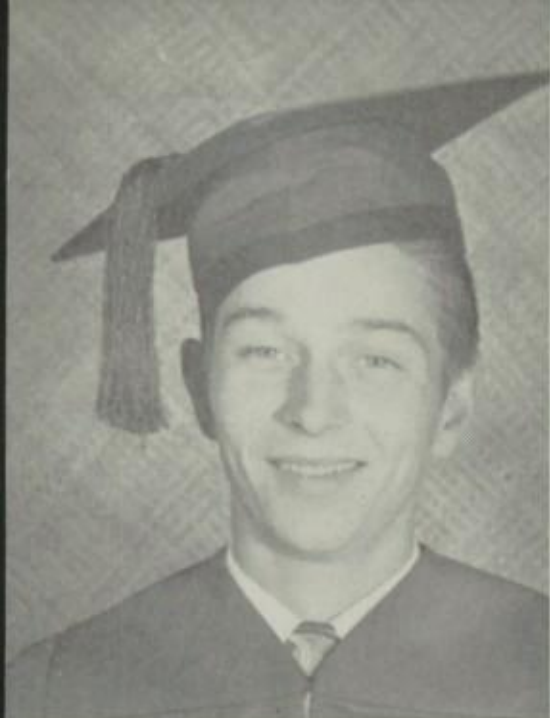

TOTTEN, LORETTA:

Shy and quiet, Loretta is known among her friends as a very personal gal. She's tall and dark and has a bewitching way with a needle and thread. Loretta will long be remembered for her quiet serenity.

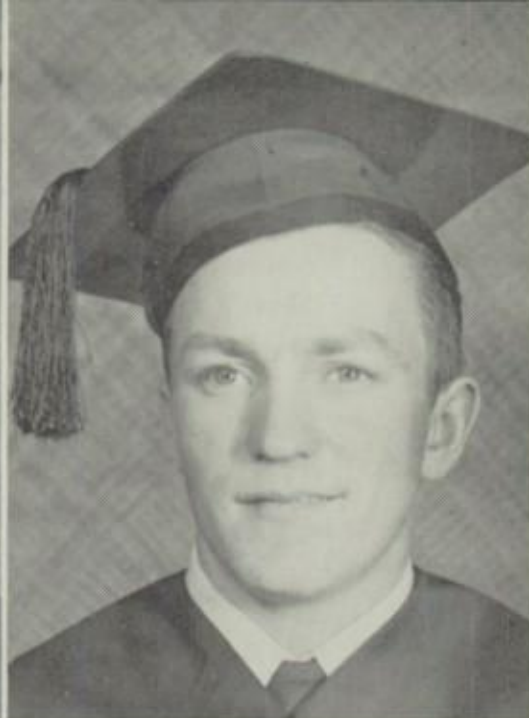

TRAPIER, BILL:

Smart in sciences, and witty with talk, Bill has made a place for himself among the class of '50. He has a wicked tennis serve, and without a doubt Bill was cut out for this sport or vice-versa.

VAN GASTEL, HUBERT

Van has made a name for himself at S. F., with his tall lankiness and smooth line which is well known. Van's friendly grin is welcome wherever "da fellas" gather; or with his numerous friends.

WALLACE, DOUGLAS

Douglas is the short guy with the blue eyes and engaging grin. He's a streak on the basketball court and full of pep whenever you meet him. His comic cheerleading is well known throughout South Fork, and he will be among those who will be missed.

WANNAMAKER, CARL

Called Carlos by his Spanish II pals this shy fellow may be seen around S. F. any time. His debating ability and natural talents in book learning and sports, mark him as an all round CUB.

WEBSTER, DAREN

Ambition and determination have led Web to success at S. F. Debating and basketball are his major diversions, and he claims band and Yvonne M. are his other two vocations.

ENGELHARDT, PAUL

A tall, good-looking, shy guy with pretty eyes and an engaging grin. Though he will not graduate until January, 1951, we are proud to include him as a Senior with us this year.

PARKS, JIM

New to South Fork, this shy and quiet guy has made a host of friends in this short duration. Living way out at Briceland doesn't keep this lad from coming to school activities. Welcome in any crowd.

FOULIS, PHYLIS

Pert redhead, transferred from Leggett Valley toward the end of this year. Good student and lots of fun defines this gal.

NOT PICTURED

PONTS, DONALD

Transferred from Potter Valley to South Fork, this dark-headed boy is already well known. He is on his toes in classes and basketball, and may be seen anywhere in that new Hudson.

Sophomore Class History

Last year, to the tune of the upperclassmen's razzing, 54 lowly Freshmen timidly marched down the halls of South Fork High. Deciding they needed someone to guide them through the years, they elected Dave Collard as president; Don Pidgeon, vice president; and Barbara Brady as secretary-treasurer. Getting into the swing of things, they put on a great cake sale and a swell dance.

This year, having increased in number and stature, they came back to reign as Sophomores. They soon found that the life of a Sophomore wasn't so glorious after all. Not to be forgotten, they put on the first dance of the year, the Sock Hop, which was a grand success. This was followed by a tremendous cake sale. Guiding them through the year were Bill Weare, Jeanne Bullock and Norma Sauers as president, vice president and secretary, respectively.

JUNIOR HI CLUBS

Eighth Grade History

The lucky graduates this year. We have enjoyed our first look at high school life and our first taste of it. It has shown us a new way of life from the smaller grammar schools.

We would like to express our appreciation to the South Fork High students.

Seventh Grade History

The largest class in the school, we are proud of our number. This year has been lots of fun for us and we are looking forward to our next year with anticipation of being graduates of South Fork Junior High.

Athletic Message

The school year of '49 and '50 will always present a challenge to the Cub athletic teams of the future. It has been a year of firsts. It gave us our first win over Fortuna and Eureka, the first championship in the history of the school, and the first year of complete school and community support. Throngs of loyal spectators jammed our athletic events to spur the teams on to victory. Out of this year came new and greater athletic heroes who will always be a measure of comparison for our competitors of the future.

It has been a great year, a year that should always be an example of the results that can be achieved through hard work, development of skills, sheer determination and a spirit of fair play. It is sincerely hoped that the successes of this golden year will infect the Cub teams of the coming years with a desire to emulate their achievements.

Championship Year Song and Cheerleaders

The six girls in the middle row added their enthusiasm and spirit to the basketball season. They were unfailing and loyal supporters of their school and team.

Our song and cheerleaders presented an interestingly varied assortment of songs and cheers, with various intricate acrobatic feats to add attraction. Gloria, Kay, Jo Anne, and Yvonne were veterans in leading, all Juniors, except Yvonne, a senior. Gloria was head cheerleader. The two Sophomores, Jeanne and Marilyn, added a lot of spark to the group. . . . We feel that these girls with fine spirit should have a special page this championship year.
